

Does anyone know how to report the cost of ABA therapy in the tax returns? Is it considered as child care expense or medical expense or what?

It can be claimed under Medical Expenses, which is considerably more beneficial than claiming it as a Child Care Expense.

You need to have a Disability Tax Credit Certificate (T2201) in place in order to be able to claim it, though, which needs to be filled out by a relevant medical practitioner or psychologist.

<http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/E/pbg/tf/t2201/README.html>